

The Covenanter

NOVEMBER 2019

When I was a youth I used to love going to church. My friends and I signed up for as many activities as we possibly could, even some that we were too young for all so we could spend more time at the church. People often praised us, congratulating us on how dedicated we were to the gospel and to Jesus, telling us how impressed they were that we had such hearts for ministry. But the truth was...none of those reasons were why we wanted to go to. I think they had something to do with it, of course, we weren't blind to the gospel or the good we could do at volunteering, but if we're wholly and completely honest, the real reason we loved going to church was so we could see each other.

Back in an age when Instant Messenger and the AOL were just coming into vogue, my friends and I lived quite a fair distance from each other. We all went to separate schools in separate school districts. I lived thirty minutes away from my best friend, Caitlin. The license laws in my dear state of PA meant that we couldn't get permits to learn to drive until 16, and though we had cell phones and screen names at the time, texting cost a fortune and sending an IM only worked if the other person was actually online. But, as youth, our church was centrally located. Caitlin may have lived thirty minutes from me but I was only fifteen minutes from the church and she was only fifteen minutes as well. We wanted to be at the church so much because it served in many ways as our community center. Often, the only time we ever saw each other, was when we were at the church.

I miss those days. Don't get me wrong, I love the fact that I no longer have to wait five minutes to get a connection to the internet, or that texting has become easy, and let's not forget the freedom a car gives me to go just about anywhere! But still...I often find myself thinking about those days when connecting with people meant more than just words. It meant sitting with people, being in the same space, genuinely enjoying company without needing any other kind of stimulation. There are times I feel like it's from an era gone that we shall never get back. And then...

Last week I had the great honor of attending Community Life's Trunk or Treat. It is one of my favorite things we host here at Winter Park Presbyterian Church because of it's atmosphere and fun and the chocolate too, of course. Last Saturday people gathered around trunks, tables with hot dogs, clowns with balloons, and a face painter. As I walked in the midst of it all, smiling at the children, and saying hi to parents, I was reminded of those good ole days. It felt like a block party. I saw real community alive and at work as WPPC members genuinely enjoyed an afternoon together watching children having the time of their lives. And it got me to thinking...why do we do community events? Why do we do fellowship? Or outreach?

I fear that it's because sometimes we think we have to do it, that it's a requirement. I fear even more that we view it in this day and age as us putting on a show, it's a responsibility, or a pain, or nothing but work with no benefit for us, especially if no one joins the church because of it. But then I think of Trunk or Treat, of the time enjoyed by all, of the smiles and the community and I remember...this is why we do it. Not because it's work or we have to, but because we are a community of believers joined together by Christ. We are a community of friends who like spending time with each other and this Church, one of the purposes it serves is as our community center. There is work involved in these opportunities for fellowship, yes, but there is also the opportunity to simply be with one another, not through text or e-mail or Facebook messenger, but really and truly be with one another.

This holiday season, there are a lot of opportunities for us to be together, through services and fellowship after, concerts put on by Worship and Music, Journey to Christmas, Advent Event, and so much more. Let's remember to take a breath in this time. Let's remember that the purpose of these events isn't membership or to put on a show, it's to be with each other. It's to treat those we meet as family and show the love of God within our community. It's to show any are looking for just that, a community, that there is always room for more.

November 17—Spiritual Conversation Series

Continuing with the new Spiritual Conversation Series, Rev. Jim Tinkey will speak. He says in his own words, "This will be the first time I have shared the whole story. I hope it will be something that encourages others to always trust God." The Spiritual Conversation Series invites people to share formative ideas and events which have helped shape their beliefs and fortify their faith. Matt Straub will serve as moderator.

November 24—No Class—Thanksgiving

Thanks for all the many books recently given to the Library. A good number of children's books were also purchased at the Preschool Book Fair. Many of these are displayed on two tables in the Library and more will soon be added.

Some of the adult books are interesting biographies. A Reporter's Life, Walter Cronkite was written when Walter was eighty but his career of spreading the news began when he was six! He also loved to drive race cars. This book is an interesting read.

Barbara Walters Audition is another good book. Barbara is an important person in the history of television journalism. She spent over forty years interviewing heads of state, movie stars, criminals, murderers, world leaders, etc. Barbara is the first woman ever to cohost a network news program.

Another interesting book is My Year with Eleanor by Noelle Hancock. This author overcame her fears by doing some daring thing each month. She begins each chapter with a quote by Eleanor Roosevelt. Worth reading the quotes alone but it's amazing the strength she gained in each chapter.

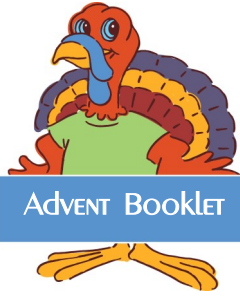

The Library has added novels by John Grisham, James Patterson, Karen Kingsbury, Lauraine Snelling, Stuart Woods, and Garth Stein.

The Old Testament is God's message to us about Him and about ourselves and it tells us the wonderful things and plans that God has for our lives. We also get to read the book that Jesus would be reading and hear about the Covenants God made with people such as Moses, Noah, Abram, Isaac, Jacob, David, and the prophets. If we did not read the Old Testament, we would not understand Jesus.

MICROWAVE NEEDED!

Do you have a lightly used microwave sitting at home that could use a new lease on life? If so, please let Pastor Emily know! The youth are desperately in need of a new microwave for the Youth Room as our current one is too old to pop popcorn and heat taco shells in three minutes or less! If you have a lightly used microwave at home, sitting and gathering dust, and would like to see it go to a good home to get some use, then please call Pastor Emily! The Youth will appreciate it!

We need your contributions for our 2019 Advent Booklet. This year we are asking people to write about one of the most valuable lessons they have learned in life, and how it became important to them. Please write a paragraph or two about a lesson that has become valuable to you. We will surround your writing with art or graphics and print it in the booklet. (Or if you're an artist yourself, you can send in your art also.) Please send your writing and art to Phyllis Woods at phylliswoods379@gmail.com or give it to her at Church. The deadline for submissions is November 22nd, but it helps us greatly if you can get your submission in as early as possible. This way we can spend more time on page design. Thanks so much for thinking about adding your contribution to our booklet. Each person's thoughts and experiences add so much to the booklet and help to make it a meaningful keepsake each year. Blessings to all as we enter the Holiday season.

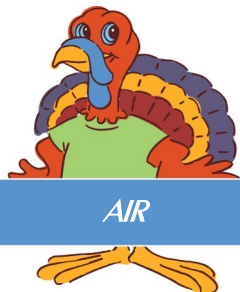

As most of the congregation knows, the deacons are responsible for the planning and execution of Memorial Services and Receptions. This is one of the more important, satisfying, as well as labor intensive responsibilities of the deacons in spiritually honoring the memory of a departed loved one as well as supporting and honoring the family and guests. It also offers the opportunity to showcase our magnificent church to a large number of outside visitors. At times the deacons can find themselves overwhelmed in carrying out this important responsibility in the grand style it calls for and is in need of some outside help.

Accordingly, starting in 2020, the Diaconate will be establishing a "Memorial Service Augmentation Team" from within the congregation to lend a helping hand to the Deacons for Memorial Services and Receptions if needed.

Please consider joining this "Augmentation Team" in 2020 – no special training is required, just a willingness to lend a hand as an usher or as a member of the kitchen crew. Please just approach Jim McKinney or any one of the Deacons and we will thankfully put your name on the "Memorial Service Augmentation Team" list - Your helping hand will be most appreciated.

~ Jim McKinney, Diaconate Moderator

Anne Hallum (founder), Cici Rodriguez (director), and Anne's husband Press, met on October 22 with members of the Compassion Committee and others involved in the work and support of AIR for many years. Anne and Cici reported that AIR hopes to build a second training site closer to the areas where their new communities are now located to reduce travel time. AIR is continuing its work of planting trees, building fuel efficient stoves, and educating communities and schools about sustainable agriculture. AIR is now receiving support from several businesses as well as churches. WPPC has been supporting AIR for over 20 years directly and through 2 Cents A Meal. Please look for the AIR table at the market for plants donated by Denise and Glenn Riccio, baking surprises made by Crystal Fern, and items from Guatemala. There are also volunteer opportunities to join groups going to Guatemala to work with community members to plant trees and build stoves.

Church Fellowship Opportunities

The Friendship Club: The next Friendship Club luncheon will be December 6th.

Book Club: November 4th

The WPPC Book Club (aka The Abibliophobes [those that are afraid of running out of reading material]) generally meets on the first Monday of each month at 7:00 PM in Room 303 of the church. The books, which include a wide variety of new fiction, classics, and non-fiction, are selected by the participants for several months in advance. November 4: Before We Were Yours (Lisa Wingate); December 2: Where the Crawdads Sing (Delia Owens). Newcomers are welcome at any time to enjoy the discussion and to experience the fellowship. For more information contact Drew Byrne—drewbyrne26@gmail.com.

Hannah Circle:

The Hannah Circle meets monthly on the second Monday at 7:00 PM in room 301. Their next scheduled meeting is November 11th.

Elizabeth Bible Study: Tuesday, November 12 @ 10:00 AM

The Elizabeth Study Group will begin the next series on Tuesday, November 12 at 10:00 AM. Jeanne will have coffee ready and we can continue discussion over lunch at her home: 144 Buckskin Way, Winter Springs FL 32708. Particulars will be sent via email to regular attendees and to future members who we welcome to join our circle of fellowship. Please RSVP to jeanne.vinci49@gmail.com or 847-650-4340 before November 7th.

Ladies Game Night: Next Game Night is November 18th

All Winter Park Presbyterian Church women are invited to join us at our monthly game night. We usually play Hand and Foot and Bridge, but feel free to come and introduce your favorite game. We typically meet the 3rd Monday of each month, at 7:00 PM in room 317. Better yet, come at 6:00 PM and build a salad. One lady brings greens and everyone else brings a cup of something to go into the salad such as onions, beets, chopped eggs, beans, corn, cheese, or anything of your choosing. Bring your own drink and favorite salad dressing and, if you would like, a snack/munchie for later. Come alone or bring a friend! Contact the church office for more information.

Have you ever noticed the beautiful tabebuia trees around town in the spring with their yellow trumpet blossoms? They are in full bloom for only a short time each year and have always appeared like a burst of sunshine on the landscape. Did you every wonder who planted them or when? A glance at the Sunday bulletin of October 13 stoked a memory and a story during a visit to Westminster Winter Park later that same day.

In 1964 the Edgewater and Jones High School bands were invited to play at the New York World's Fair. Fundraisers were held, but as the publicity featured Edgewater High School, the Jones band wasn't having much success. Remember, this was a time of segregation in the South, so black schools and white schools did not do things together. The band directors of each school, however, saw things differently. They were looking at musical talent rather than race and decided to work together to raise funds so both bands could go to the fair. Del Kieffner of Edgewater and Jim Wilson of Jones combined their efforts and spurred the major businesses in the community to sponsor events that resulted in the trip of a lifetime for the band members of both schools.

One of the fundraisers was held by The Orlando Sentinel. They decided to bring in 150 tabebuia trees, each about 24 inches tall, and sold them in front of their headquarters on Orange Avenue for $1.50 apiece. A traffic jam ensued and all the trees were sold very quickly. Later, the Sentinel received numerous letters from people who didn't get to the sale in time and so did not get a tree, and they were a little angry about it! The Sentinel decided to import another 150 trees, and those sold very quickly also. One of these trees was planted in the backyard of my former residence and it was a pleasure to see the sunburst of blossoms each spring.

The result of all the fundraisers was that both bands were able to go to the World's Fair. Beyond that, the band directors and band members made friends that lasted a lifetime.

Professors at UCF encouraged students in the honors public history and documentary classes to make a film about this event. "Marching Forward" is now making the rounds of film festivals and will be shown at the Orange County Regional History Center on Sunday, February 16, 2020 at 2:00 PM.

Many thanks to Marilyn Kieffner for the memories that inspired this article. Do you believe that God works in mysterious ways?

HOMELESS COALITION TEAM NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

Each month about 50 devoted WPPC volunteers handle the many tasks to provide a wonderful meal and a bag of toiletries to our guests at the Coalition. We are in need of additional volunteers for various projects, and backup volunteers when regulars must be absent:

- ♦ Sort/bag toiletries at church (1 hr/mo)
- ♦ Make PB&J sandwiches (seated) at church (1 hr/mo)

If you could help out with this special mission, please call or email Nancy Galyean (info below).

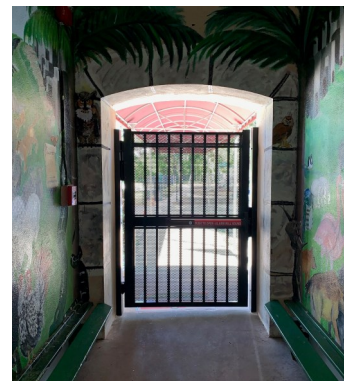

Any of the above gifts, or your time, are so appreciated!
To help in any way, please contact: Nancy Galyean

We have a beautiful new fence!

Preschool families have been very busy raising funds for security improvements. These funds, the support of our church community, and a generous grant from the Joe and Sarah Galloway Foundation enabled us to provide additional security for our preschool. Thank you to everyone who contributed their time, hard work and money to make this dream a reality!

The fence was designed to complement existing architecture and preserve the open-to-nature qualities of our campus, yet provide enhanced security. Our newly fenced shady front lawn will be used for outdoor classroom learning activities as well as after school soccer enrichment classes. Locking gates with fire escape panic bar will allow for a quick exit, yet the alarm feature will let us know if a child tries to leave the school area.

We are very pleased with the service and craftsmanship provided by Rose Fence. Ask for KC at Rose Fence!

Galloway Foundation Grant received

The Winter Park Presbyterian Preschool staff and families would like to thank the Joe and Sarah Galloway Foundation for their $5000.00 grant for security enhancements. During their lifetime the Galloways provided financial support to and served in leadership roles for a variety of charitable organizations in Central Florida. The Trustees of the Foundation carry on Joe & Sarah Galloway's commitment to public service by making grants to qualified public charities in Central Florida and beyond. We are so grateful for their continued support!

Thank you, Pastor Bob!

A million thanks to Pastor Bob Eckard for personally hand crafting the much needed repairs to our sign! We are THRILLED!!!!

Christmas Cookie Jar Presale November 4 – 22

Our school is gearing up for our annual Christmas cookie jar fundraiser. These beautifully decorated jars of cookie mix are lovingly prepared by preschool parent volunteers. Families will have the opportunity to purchase cookie jars in advance at the special rate of $8.00 per jar beginning November 4. Order forms are available in the preschool office. These jars always sell out, so don't wait!
